THE LEGISLATURE.

The Day's Work Devoted to Organization.

CARSON THE SENATE PRESIDENT.

Ring Rule Plainly Apparent—The Supreme Court Says the Keady Liquor Law is Void—Proceedings in Both Houses.

SALEM, Jan 10.—The day has been devoted to the work of organization which was not completed till nearly 6 o'clock this evening. On the part of many members there was indisposition to go into caucus or into any conference which looked like a caucus. After much talk, however, their scruples were overcome with an understanding that the meetings should be considered and called merely consultations, and to have no binding effect on those participating. Even this was more than one senator (Dawson of Linn) felt was consistent with his promises in the canvass preceding his election, and after entering the consultation room he explained his position and asked permission to retire, which was granted. To this action is due the election of Carson to the presidency, since Dawson's vote would have elected Lee.

In the senate consultation the first proceeding was to declare that the meeting was not a caucus, and the next was to vote on president, the result being a tie between Carson and Lee, with one blank vote. On the next ballot Carson had one majority.

CARSON PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

No further ballots were taken, but in the open session later all the republicans excepting Dawson, who voted blank, voted for Carson. The democrats voted for J. K. Weatherford of Linn.

The candidates for the chief clerkship of the senate before the republican consultation were E. G. Hursh of Roseburg and Charles B. Moores of Salem. Hursh received one majority. Later in the open session, all the republicans voted for Hursh. The democrats voted for J. J. Williams.

There was an active contest over the minor offices of the senate. For assistant clerk C. W. Watts of Albany, son of Senator Watts of Yamhill, outstripped all other opponents. The democratic vote was given to T. J. Cronise of Linn. For sergeant at arms there were about a dozen candidates, but Stephens managed to hold fast, the democrats voting for James T. Hill of Coos. A. R. Brown, temporarily appointed doorkeeper, had to step down on account of the Marion delegation demanding recognition of some sort.

ORGANIZATION OF THE HOUSE.

The republicans of the house held a conference at 10 o'clock, under a similar understanding to that among the senators. A formal resolution was adopted, declaring that the meeting was not a caucus, and that its conclusions were not binding. On the first ballot Gregg had 14 votes and Loughlin of Yamhill 7, with the others scattering among half a dozen candidates. Gregg was then called on to state his position and he made a speech promising absolute impartiality to all in making up committees. He then got 24 votes to 10 scattering. Subsequently all the republicans voted for him in open session.

It was decided in the consultation room to compromise the clerkship dispute by giving the places to both candidates, the chief clerkship to Jennings and the second place to Cole.

RING RULE.

The most significant incident of the day besides the election of Carson was the rejection in the senate of a resolution proposed by Dawson of Linn to place the appointment of the senate committees in the hands of a special committee, composed of Dawson of Linn, Hare of Washington, Irvine of Linn, Cartwright of Crook, and Coleman of Lane. The purpose of this resolution was to take the appointment of the committees out of the hands of Carson. Simon, who is Carson's sponsor, twigged at once. He declared that he was surprised at the resolution, that at the last session such a resolution had been passed, but it was at a time of special excitement. It had been the habit for the president to appoint, and he thought it would be better to return to the old custom. He moved to lay Dawson's resolution on the table. He was seconded by Siglin, and the motion carried, 14 to 12. Those voting to table the resolution were Simon, Watts, Bird, Steel, Barin, Gray, Williams, Shupe, Miller, Cartwright, Siglin, Chandler, Hamilton, Chamberlin—14. Those voting no were Dawson, Hare, Irvine, J. C. Allen, Cauthorn, Veatch, Looney, Dimick, Weatherford, Wager, Emmitt, Rinehart—12.

MACHINE SUCCESSES.

Looking over the results of the day it is evident that the republican machine, as managed by Simon, has won at every point but one. The caucus was disclaimed, it is true, but its rule was practically enforced in both houses. This may be called success number one for the machine. Carson's election was success number two, and the defeat of Dawson's resolution was success number three. The failure of Benjamin to get the speakership was the only point lost, and that is a trifling matter at this time.

It is claimed by those who voted in the senate conference for Lee that their defeat was caused by the failure of Dawson to participate in the meeting, by the desertion of Emmett and Watts, and by the fact that Lee voted for Carson, a courtesy which was not reciprocated. It is also claimed that Watts changed to Carson upon a promise that his son should be made assistant clerk.

THE KEADY LIQUOR LAW.

The supreme court announced to-day, for the information of the legislature and the public, that the judges having looked into the law known as the Keady law, adopted last session, have found it to be irregular and of no effect. It seems that the bill, which originated in the house, was amended in the senate by the insertion of a clause prohibiting the sale of liquor in certain cases in less amounts than one quart. By an error on the part of the clerk of the senate this amendment was reported to the house reading one gallon. The house adopted this reading, thinking it was concurring in the senate amendment. The bill as passed the senate is therefore different from that which passed the house, and so is not of legal effect. The announcement has made quite a stir, owing to the fact that this is the third error in the same bill. As adopted two years ago it was without an enacting clause. After its second enactment at the special session it was found after the legislature adjourned that an effort had been made to mutilate the enrollment by drawing a pen line through the words "Be it enacted." This last fatal error revives the scandals created by the former errors. Evidently there has been a determined and infamous effort to defeat this law. The fact illustrates the methods of the whisky ring. The announcement by the supreme court is timely and will be the means of bringing the question again before the legislature. There is scarcely a doubt that the Keady law or something like it will be passed during the current session.

It is reported that the new governor will be installed to-morrow afternoon. A. H.

SENATE.

Called to order at 11:15. J. D. Lee of Benton and Polk was introduced by Senator Simon as temporary chairman.

J. C. Hursh of Douglas was elected temporary chief clerk. C. W. Watts of Linn county assistant chief clerk.

T. C. Stephens of Yamhill was elected temporary sergeant at arms, and A. R. Brown of Multnomah county was elected temporary doorkeeper.

Senator Miller of Josephine moved that a committee of five be appointed on credentials; carried.

Senator Simon called the attention of the democratic members to the fact that the republican members had not yet agreed on permanent officers, and moved an adjournment until half past 4 o'clock; lost by a vote of 9 to 15.

The motion was amended that an adjournment be taken until half past 2 o'clock; carried.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The senate was called to order at 2:45 P. M. by J. D. Lee. Miller of Josephine submitted a report of the committee on credentials; read and approved. It was found that R. D. Bird of Yamhill, elected in 1885, was entitled to a seat. The oath of office was administered to the newly elected senators by Secretary of State McBride. The senate then proceeded to permanent organization by the election of officers as follows:

President—J. C. Carson, Multnomah.
Chief Clerk—E. G. Hursh, Douglas.
Assistant Clerk—C. W. Watts of Albany.
Sergeant at arms—Thomas C. Stephens, of Lafayette.
Doorkeeper—J. H. McCormick of Salem.

President Carson will appoint pages to-morrow.

Dawson of Linn moved that a committee of five be appointed to select and arrange standing committees.

Miller, of Josephine introduced a resolution that the rules of the last regular session be adopted as the rules of this session until otherwise ordered; adopted.

Adjourned for the day.

HOUSE.

The house was called to order at a few minutes past 11 o'clock by J. T. Gregg, clerk of the house at the last session and a member from Marion county in the present legislature. Goodsell of Multnomah, nominated Roberts, of Coos, for temporary chairman, and he was elected by a unanimous vote. A member from Lane nominated A. C. Jennings of Lane for temporary chief clerk, and a member from Clackamas nominated J. P. Cole of Clackamas, for the same position. Jennings was elected. After the appointment of a committee on credentials the house adjourned till 2:30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The house was called to order at 2:30 and took a recess until 3. At that hour secretary McBride appeared and administered the official oath to the members. The house then proceeded to the election of officers, resulting as follows:

Speaker—J. T. Gregg, of Marion county.
Chief clerk—A. C. Jennings of Lane.
Assistant clerk—J. P. Cole of Clackamas.
Sergeant at arms—Henry Rogers, of Douglas.
Doorkeeper—Thos. G. Young of Multnomah.
Pages—Orin Laughead, Fred Baker and Max Smith.

The rules of the thirteenth session were adopted. The officers were then formally sworn in and the house adjourned for the day.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ENGLAND.

THE NEW CABINET.

LONDON, Jan 10.—The composition of the new cabinet was announced this evening: Lord Salisbury, secretary of state for foreign affairs; the Right Hon. W. H. Smith, first lord of the treasury; the Right Hon. G. J. Goschen, chancellor of the exchequer; Right Hon. Edward Stanhope, secretary of state for war, and Sir Henry Holland, secretary of state for the colonies. There is no change in the other cabinet officers. The Earl of Iddesleigh refused Lord Salisbury's offer of the privy seal. Lord Iddesleigh denies that the condition of his health debars him from accepting the onerous office, and he withdraws from official life under a strong sense of having been ill treated. His personal friends explain that he preferred his resignation to enable Lord Salisbury to form a coalition cabinet. When the prime minister's efforts in that direction failed Lord Iddesleigh considered himself entitled to hold the leading portfolio. His son, Lord St. Cyres, in a letter contradicts the alleged ill health. He says his father's family, friends and medical advisers concur in the opinion that the interesting duties of the foreign office have had a very beneficial effect upon his health, and that he is now stronger than at any time since he left the house of commons. Lord Salisbury's supporters state that they are glad to get rid of Lord Iddesleigh, as his help was of no benefit to the foreign office.

Lord Iddesleigh's son Henry, who is surveyor general of ordnance, threatens to resign, but it is thought unlikely that he will abandon an office which yields him a yearly income of £1600.

Negotiations between Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Morley are tending toward an agreement on the land bill on the basis of Mr. Chamberlain's former proposals to limit the operations of the bill to the purchase of smaller holdings, thus requiring a total capital guaranteed by the imperial exchequer of £25,000,000.

LORD CHURCHILL INDEPENDENT.

LONDON, Jan 10.—Lord Randolph Churchill, replying to an address of confidence from Primrose lodge, expressed gratification and satisfaction that the signers of the address are more generous in their judgment than many conservative members of parliament who have precipitately condemned him, although they have no information as to the causes of his resignation. He says he cares little whether such hasty and adverse criticism modifies or not, after he has been allowed to make a public personal explanation, the approval of such persons being as worthless as their disapproval.

GLADSTONE APPROVES CHURCHILL'S RESIGNATION.

LONDON, Jan 10.—Gladstone writes saying Lord Randolph Churchill's resignation was justifiable, and adds: "I, myself, favor more economy in army and navy expenditures."

ENGLAND WILLING FOR WAR.

LONDON, Jan 10.—The Telegraph lays stress upon the many rumors of war now current, and says England desires a Franco-German conflict in order to enable her to carry out her own eastern plans.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON.

LONDON, Jan 10.—Henry Stafford Northcote, son of Lord Iddesleigh, has, contrary to expectation, resigned the office of surveyor general of ordnance.

IRELAND.

CONFLICT OF PEOPLE AND POLICE.

DUBLIN, Jan 10.—As an outcome of the prohibited nationalist meeting which was announced to be held to-day on the occasion of the threatened wholesale evictions at Roslea, there was a collision between a crowd of about 4000 persons, who were waiting to receive Mr. Dillon, and a force of police and drafted village peasants, the latter of whom were armed with sticks. The police used their batons freely and succeeded in dispersing the crowd. Dillon and a Catholic clergyman who was present, while strongly protesting against the action of the police, persuaded the people to return to their homes. The evictions were postponed.

A SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

DUBLIN, Jan 10.—Mr. John Dillon has commenced an action against Inspectors O'Brien and Davis to recover £2000 damage for malicious prosecution and assault, and £1000 damages for the seizure and retention of moneys and documents in connection with the arrest of himself and others at Loughrea, for receiving tenants' rents.

PROTESTANTS LOYAL TO THE QUEEN.

DUBLIN, Jan 10.—The Protestant churches in Ireland will raise a fund to commemorate the queen's jubilee.

SPAIN.

A GREAT SCARE OVER THE INFANTA ISABELLA.

MADRID, Jan 10.—For several hours on Saturday the city was excited over sensational reports that the infanta Isabella, sister of the late King Alfonso, had been kidnapped or killed. The infanta had gone out in a carriage to follow the royal huntsmen in the Prado. She occupied her carriage alone and was escorted by three aids. In a remote part of the great park the carriage broke down, throwing the infanta into a ditch. She was not hurt, although it was feared she was. It was deemed prudent for her to remain at the scene of the accident until assistance could be procured, and for this a lackey was dispatched. Much time was lost in this, and in the meantime the huntsmen had gone on a great distance before they missed their royal mistress. When they discovered she was no longer with them they became greatly frightened, started a general alarm and began a noisy search. The prolonged absence of the infanta from the castle caused uneasiness there, and finally police and troops were sent out in search of her.

CANADA.

A HITCH IN THE CABINET.

NEW YORK, Jan 10.—An Ottawa dispatch says: Owing to dissensions in the dominion cabinet over the immediate dissolution of parliament and the holding of a general election, John Costigan, minister of internal revenue, has placed his resignation in the hands of Sir John A. MacDonald. It is not likely that it will be accepted until after the election. Owing to a disagreement as to next year's estimates now being prepared, W. A. McClellan, minister of finance, after the cabinet meeting on Saturday handed Sir John his resignation. This is likely to be accepted and his place filled probably by Sir Charles Tupper, the present Canadian high commissioner in London, who sails for Canada to-morrow.

GERMANY.

BISMARCK WILL CONCEDE NOTHING.

BERLIN, Jan 10.—The official newspapers say that Prince Bismarck will certainly intervene in the debate on the army bill in the reichstag, and that he will insist upon the adoption of the seven years term, conceding nothing to the opponents of the measure. The Westphalian Mercury, a clerical official organ, declares that if the government cannot modify the septennate scheme the center, equally obstinate, will not sanction a term longer than three years.

FRANCE.

A DISCREDITED STORY.

PARIS, Jan 10.—La France declares that it has authentic information that Germany, Italy and Spain have formed an alliance against France, and that ex-Marshal Bazaine is among the prime movers. The story is discredited here.

THURMAN FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

NEW YORK, Jan 10.—Gov. Hill's managers are manifesting no little uneasiness at the ovation given to Judge Thurman at the 8th of January celebration at Columbus, O. They see the figure of the old statesman as an uplooming up as a candidate for the nomination for president at the next democratic national convention. It ... troubles the governor himself as well as his managers ... that his ... nomination has been ... the most formidable competitor for Hill is likely to be confronted with in the convention.

What Oregon's Representatives were doing Yesterday.

THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE BILL.

Cullom Points out the Meaning of Several Obscure Provisions of the Measure—Stanford's Plea for the Railroads.

WASHINGTON, Jan 10.—Dolph has introduced an amendment, intended to be proposed to the sundry civil bill, directing the secretary of war to cause an examination to be made of the mouths of the Coeur d'Alene and St. Joseph rivers, where they empty into Coeur d'Alene lake, with a view to removing the obstructions to navigation. One thousand dollars is proposed for this purpose.

He also proposed an amendment, appropriating $15,000 for the education of children of school age in Alaska.

Mitchell to-day introduced a bill to pay $1000 each to the heirs of A. C. Gibbs and to B. F. Dowell for defending Lieutenant Crandall of Fort Klamath when under charges of false imprisonment.

Hermann introduced to-day the following bills:

Empowering the secretary of war to order repairs of a temporary character in navigable rivers, in order to preserve uninterrupted navigation thereon.

For the relief of Louise A. Ingram of Vancouver.

Bills to pay Howard Martin of Crook county $... and B. B. Bishop of Umatilla county $1558 for property destroyed by hostile Indians. The following are for Indian depredation claims: Elizabeth Guerney $410, B. F. Dowell $200, J. B. Nicholls $1718, John Westley Miller $817, Hardy Elliff $17,100, Heirs of Geo. W. Harris $386.

Bills to pension S. S. Gimble of Polk county and J. J. Simms of Yamhill county.

Also a joint resolution withdrawing from sale and settlement vacant public lands along the Columbia river between The Dalles and Celilo as a reservation for the future improvement of river navigation by a boat railroad between said points.

At a meeting of the select committee on coast defenses, of which Dolph is chairman, it was decided to take up the two bills favorably reported by Senator Hawley at the last session and urge action thereon by the senate. The bills are to encourage the manufacture of steel for modern naval and army ordnance. The committee also considered the advisability of asking the privilege of the senate to sit during the recess of congress.

Hermann was to-day recognized by the speaker for the purpose of securing legislation on the bill to establish a new land district in Oregon, but by the objection of Cobb the bill went over. T. C. J.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan 10.—The senate at 10 o'clock P. M. took up the interstate commerce bill, and Beck took the floor with his speech in favor of the conference report.

On motion of Dawes the house amendments to the senate bill to provide lands for Indians in severalty were non-concurred in and a conference asked.

At 2 o'clock, Beck having concluded his remarks on the interstate commerce bill, Cullom took the floor. He said he would confine his attention at this time to explanation of the fourth section, "long and short hauls," in respect to which there seemed to be much misunderstanding.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the inter-state commerce bill, and was addressed by Beck in favor of the adoption of the conference report.

Cullom also addressed the senate in favor of the conference report, confining his remarks principally to the fourth section as to long and short hauls. This section, he said, simply undertakes to lay down in specific terms a rule or principle which, as I have always contended, is already in effect contained in the other provisions of the bill. The first requirement of the bill on the subject of rates is found in the first section, and is that all rates shall be "reasonable and just." This is, in effect, a declaration that under similar circumstances and conditions a greater sum shall not be charged for a shorter than for a longer distance, because under such circumstances it would not be "reasonable and just" to make such a charge. The next requirement of the bill that affects the question is found in the first part of the third section, which forbids the giving of an undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular locality. This is likewise a declaration that a greater sum shall not be charged for a shorter than for a longer haul under similar circumstances and conditions, because such charge would be the making or giving of an undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to one particular locality, or would subject some other particular locality to an undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage.

LONG AND SHORT HAULS.

The senator here quoted the fourth section in full. As I understand it, this section, as it now stands, simply prohibits railroad corporations from charging a greater aggregate sum, not a higher rate, for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line, in the same direction, and under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, when the shorter is included within the longer distance. There is no other prohibition made in positive terms. The declaration that "this shall not be construed as authorizing any common carrier within the terms of this act to charge and receive as great a compensation for a shorter as for a longer distance" does not in terms prohibit the charging as much for a shorter as for a longer distance, but simply withholds legislative sanction from the making of such a charge. This qualifying clause negatives the inferences that might possibly be drawn from the language of the section without those words, namely, that an equal charge for a shorter distance is authorized by inference, because only a greater charge is prohibited.

The qualification therefore leaves the question of whether an equal amount can be charged for a shorter distance to be determined by the provisions of the bill to which I have already referred, requiring all charges to be reasonable, and forbidding the giving of an unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular locality. The requirement of the fourth section then is that between shipments of the same kind in the same direction, over the same line and made under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, a greater sum shall not be charged for a shorter than for a longer haul, when the shorter comprises a part of the longer haul. Not that a higher rate shall not be charged per mile, but that a greater aggregate sum shall not be charged.

LIMITATIONS IN FAVOR OF THE ROADS.

The limitations placed upon the prohibition that is made are very significant, and they must not be overlooked. They require that in determining the sums that may be charged for a shorter as compared with a longer distance the requirement must be made:

First—Between shipments of like kind of property.

Second—Under substantially similar circumstances and conditions.

Third—Over the same lines.

Fourth—In the same direction.

Fifth—When the shorter is included within the longer distance.

When the act is to be applied in any given case to measure the charge that may be made for any distance as compared with a longer distance, all the limitations must be taken into account, and they must all apply to the case, not three or four of them, but all of them. The first, fourth and fifth limitations do not appear to call for any explanation, but the second and third may need some explanation. As I understand them the words "circumstances and conditions" mean conditions that govern the railway traffic, and circumstances under which freight is transported. To my mind these words are full of meaning. They comprehend all the circumstances and conditions that may justify differences in rates, such as competition with other roads and with water routes, the volume and character of business at different points, the difference in terminal expenses and cost of service in each case. If the words were "the same circumstances and conditions" the ingenious railway men would be able to show that the circumstances and conditions were never exactly the same in any two cases, and they might also be able to show that they were not similar if that was the word used, but the words "substantially similar" impart enough latitude to the comparison to enable the courts to exercise sound discretion and common sense in passing upon the cases that may arise. So far as any one railroad company is concerned, therefore, the sum which it may charge for a haul from one end of its road to the other end becomes the maximum amount it can charge for any shorter haul over that road in the same direction and under similar circumstances and conditions when the shorter distance is included within the longer.

POOLING RATES.

But the question that seems to trouble those who object to the section as it stands is whether the sum ... the amount which ... for ... and destination ... its own line ... or ... of ... rates upon shipments passing over its road which originate or are destined for points on another road. It seems clear to me that there can be but one answer to that question. In the first place, the measure of the charge which may be made for the shorter distance is the sum that is charged for the longer distance over the same line and under substantially similar circumstances and conditions. The rates fixed by each ... between points upon its own ... are clear. The rates upon one line or, in the ... The railroad company can make and control rates upon its own road, and the section says that in making such rates the short haul principle shall be observed. A railroad company cannot control rates over the roads of another company. But when two or more companies unite in making joint rates over their respective roads they become, in the eye of this bill, one line, and this section says that the short haul principle must be observed in making rates over that line, the two or more roads composing it being within the meaning of the section the same line so far as such joint rates are concerned. The word railroad is used throughout the bill, and the word line is used only in this section. The courts will be bound to assume that the word "line" means something different from the word "railroad," or it would not have been used in this one instance when the word "railroad" would naturally have been used if something different had not been intended.

A COMBINATION IS ONE LINE.

The word "line" means "railroad or combination of railroads." It means "a route." Section 7 of the bill requires the carriage of freights to be treated as one continuous carriage from the place of shipment to the destination, and this could not be done in the cases of shipments over connecting roads if the word used in this section was "railroad" instead of "line." The joint through rates which are made by two or more railroad companies between points upon their respective roads are made over an entirely different and distinct line from that over which any one company individually makes rates, and they are also made under different "circumstances and conditions" from those which govern and determine the rates made over single railroad. The two transactions are separate and distinct, neither being necessarily governed by the other. Furthermore the making of joint through rates is specifically recognized by the bill in the section requiring publicity of rates, and nowhere in the bill can anything be found in relation to the division of a joint rate by connecting roads. I am satisfied therefore that the only construction that is warranted by the language of the section is that I have given it, and that, instead of requiring rates to be measured by the percentage of the through rate which the road accepts, or of requiring through rates over connecting roads to be an aggregation of local rates over each road, as some have claimed, the section as it stands simply requires that each railroad company shall observe the short haul principle as to its own rates, and that the same principle shall also be observed by the combination railroad as to joint through rates between points upon their roads agreed upon by such combination.

George objected to the interpretation upon the words "under like circumstances and conditions" by Mr. Cullom. He did not believe that it was a true and legitimate interpretation.

SOME FURTHER EXPLANATIONS.

In reply to questions by Aldrich, Harris of Tennessee undertook to explain and defend the fourth section of the bill. There was, he said, four distinct and independent lines of railroad between San Francisco and New York. These become one line by contract and agreement between them. If they charged $100 a car from San Francisco to New York that was the maximum rate which they could charge from Ogden or Omaha to New York.

Aldrich—Then they could charge $99 a car from Ogden or Omaha or Buffalo?

Harris—"There is no reason to be found in this bill why they may not charge from any intermediate point up to the maximum of the through charge, except that the charge must be reasonable."

Mr. Stanford argued against the bill. He said that it tended not only to prevent competition by railroads, but it exhibited a tendency to foster the waterways to the prejudice of the railroad interests. If the object were to enhance the water lines at the expense of the railroads he did not know how a bill could be framed to secure such an object better than this. Railway business was legitimate, and there could be no justification for depriving owners of railroads of the control of their property. The bill seemed to him clearly in violation of the rights of property and of the rights of labor to receive compensation for services performed. It was also a discouragement to that class of investment. In regard to the long and short haul section he argued that water and other competition sometimes made it absolutely necessary to charge more to intermediate stations than for through business. All the overland lines of railroad find their rates very largely controlled and influenced by the routes by way of the isthmus of Panama and of Cape Horn. Meeting that competition and being willing to accept a small profit where a larger cannot be had, they carry along the line between two extreme points the same character of freight at less rates than it is carried from East to West or from West to East to intermediate places.

STANFORD'S PHILOSOPHY.

Thus because of competition, freight going from New York to San Francisco may pass over various lines of railroad making up a through line for perhaps half their regular rates, say from New York to Buffalo, from Buffalo to Chicago, from Chicago to Omaha, from Omaha to Salt Lake, or to any destination on the Pacific coast. No profit is so small as to be despised. Business is done at that rate rather than not do it at all.

Take a more marked illustration. The Southern Pacific road strikes the Atlantic waters at a much less distance than any of its more northern competitors. It has a line of easy gradients comparatively, and it competes not only with its northern rivals, but more particularly with the Cape Horn and isthmus of Panama routes, because of its shorter line and easy gradients. In this competition it often takes freight between the two oceans as low as $10, while it takes freight half way for $20 a ton, a most reasonable rate for the limited local business of that country. Now if it only makes a dollar net on freight from San Francisco to New Orleans at $10, it is led to make that dollar where it can get no more, but a ton of freight going to El Paso, something over half the distance, will pay $30 a ton. Now if freight at $10 to New Orleans pays $1 profit, freight going the less distance to El Paso would pay as much profit as twenty-one tons going through to New Orleans, and the rates charged to El Paso are but fair, as shown by gross earnings and gross expenses of the road, leaving but a very narrow net profit. The shorter distance is not charged any more because of the less rate for the longer distance. Indeed the longer distance helps the railroad company to maintain itself, while without that help perhaps they could not do the shorter business. After all this, is congress prepared to say that small earnings shall be despised. That they shall not be secured when greater can not be had? Are they prepared to deny to individual shippers and communities the benefit of their more favorable location, whether made so because of geography and topography of the country or by artificial means. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan 10.—The speaker laid before the house a communication from the secretary of the treasury, in reply to a resolution asking for interpretation of the tariff law respecting the duties on fish; referred.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Under call of states the following bills and resolutions were introduced and referred:

A bill making an appropriation for the investigation of the peculiarities of the formation and structure of the earth's crust.

By Oates of Alabama—Making a ten years residence of aliens a pre requisite to naturalization.

By Markham of California—For the protection of forest lands of the United States in California.

By Morrow of California (by request)—To enable the secretary of the treasury to acquire and extinguish outstanding titles of property occupied by the treasury department in San Francisco.

By Cobb of Indiana—A resolution granting the public lands committee power to call up any day after the morning hour bills for the forfeiture of land grants, to prevent speculation in public lands and to reserve public lands for bona fide settlers.

By Morrill, of Kansas—To place lumber and salt on the free list and to reduce the duty on sugar.

By Peters, of Kansas, authorizing the secretary of the treasury to erect public buildings, not to exceed in cost $50,000 each, in any town or city in which the gross receipts to the government from any office exceeds $10,000.

By Merriman, of New York, for the purchase of John Ericsson's "Destroyer" and ten enlarged steel vessels of the same type for defending the harbors of the United States.

By Gifford of Arizona, granting a right of way to the United States Railroad company from a point on the Canadian boundary to a point on the Mexican boundary.

Morrison of Illinois, from the committee on rules, reported a resolution setting apart Wednesday and Thursday next for consideration of business reported from the committee on judiciary; agreed to. This order includes the Edmunds-Tucker polygamy bill.

The floor was then given to the District of Columbia committee, and after the passage of several district measures the house adjourned.

POSTAL NOTES.

WASHINGTON, Jan 10.—The postoffice department to-day furnished the following for the information of postmasters: The act of congress approved January 3, 1887, authorizes the issue only of postal notes, not the payment thereof, at such post offices other than money order offices as the postmaster general may designate. Every application or petition for the extension of this privilege should specify the number of inhabitants of the place from which it emanates and briefly the reasons for desiring the extension of the postal note system, and should contain such statements as will tend to show that this means of making small remittances is needed. Each application or petition should be signed by the postmaster of the locality, who will be required to give a slightly increased bond to cover the value of the blank notes entrusted to him, and should be addressed to the superintendent of the money order system, postoffice department, Washington, D. C.

THE STATE'S WHEAT AND WINE.

More Dynamite in San Francisco—A Well-known Lawyer Asphyxiated by Gas—Smallpox Epidemic in Mexico.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 10.—In railroad circles there is apprehension of another war in railroad rates, but a desire for peace is expressed at all the offices. The situation to-day is thus explained by a resident railroad agent: "Cutting so far relates to agents' commissions. The Southern Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe are wholly outside of the controversy. The parties concerned are the Union Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande, the Iowa roads and the trunk lines. For instance, a ticket is sold to New York from this city. There is a commission of $5 to $7, according to the class of the ticket. If it be a first-class ticket the road to the Missouri river pays $3, the Iowa roads $1 and the trunk lines $3. It has been the custom, for example, if the Chicago & Northwestern or Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul sold the ticket, that the commission derived would be credited to the company selling it and the money go into the fund for the maintenance of the company's office in this city selling tickets. Agents now simply surrender their commissions entire or in part to get passengers."

Although it is said in some quarters that there are no signs of a general war, yet a clear headed railroad man of age and experience said this forenoon: "If the Southern Pacific and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe should make the slightest cut, then stand from under, for everything will tumble." These great transcontinental lines are viewing the scene complacently and closely watching each other. A simple infraction of rates may precipitate another contest, and in the end the railroad people will come out ahead and thousands of Eastern people will be afforded the pleasure of visiting California.

THE WHEAT SUPPLY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The produce exchange finished to-day taking stock of the wheat on hand January 1 in the state and aboard the vessels in harbor. Official figures are not to be published till to-morrow, but they were obtained to-night through private sources. The stock on hand is 400,000 tons; required for consumption, seed, carry over and shipments to Pacific ocean points, 150,000 tons; balance available for shipment for Europe, 250,000 tons, equal to 8,000,000 bushels. These figures corroborate the estimates lately made. During the first six months of last year California sent Europe 402,000 tons of wheat, being 60 percent more than the total actual quantity at present in the state for export to Europe. The present season so far has been very dry, as this year is an "off" year, due to the smaller amount of summer fallowing done in the even years. The next season's surplus is likely to be small, with only a small carry over to add to it.

CALIFORNIA WINES.

NEW YORK, Jan 10.—Bonfort's Wine Circular says, editorially: In reviewing the figures of the business for the past year there is nothing more striking and gratifying than the large increase in the receipts of California wines. That these wines are growing in popular demand at a most rapid rate is without question. The reason is that California is now producing good, wholesome table wines, and these are being bought and used in place of the cheaper grades of foreign wine. If there is as much improvement in California wines in the next ten years as there has been in the past, the resources of that state will be taxed to supply the demand.

ACCIDENTAL ASPHYXIATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The janitor of Montgomery block, corner of Montgomery and Washington streets, this morning discovered Col. Henry P. Irving, a well known lawyer of this city, lying insensible on his bed in his room. The gas was turned on and it was evident that Col. Irving was at the point of death from asphyxiation. A doctor was called in, but death resulted in fifteen minutes. Deceased was a native of the state of Virginia and aged 63 years. He was undressed when found and lying across the bed. He had evidently left the gas turned on accidentally.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The police are searching for Tillie Smith of Woodland, who came to this city a week ago and was to have been married here Saturday evening to S. C. Henry, also of Woodland. The young lady has not been seen since Friday afternoon. No clue has yet been discovered. It is stated, however, that a certain grocery man, whose name and place of business are unknown, had threatened that she should never marry Henry. The missing girl is 22 years of age.

THE EMMA ABBOTT COMPANY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Abbott opera company opened to-night in "Traviata," at the Baldwin theater, to a large and fashionable audience. Miss Abbott was in excellent voice and was warmly welcomed. On the conclusion of their season in this city the company go to Sacramento, which is the only other point they will visit in this state. They will then go to Portland for a season, returning East via the Northern Pacific.

THE BURNED VESSEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The local inspectors of steam vessels submitted their findings to-day on the burning of the steam whaler Mary and Helen at the oil works last month. The testimony gives no clue as to the cause of the fire, and as none of the officers of the steamer had been put in charge of her, no blame is attached to them.

THE GOLDEN GATE PARK SUICIDE.

Doctors who examined the body of Nellie Hatch, which was found in Golden Gate park Saturday last, have come to the conclusion that it was a case of long premeditated suicide. A bottle containing poison, the contents of which she had taken, was found to have been purchased in the East, where deceased had been visiting.

NOTABLE DEAD.

DEATH OF JOHN ROACH.

NEW YORK, Jan 10.—John Roach, the great ship builder, died at 8 o'clock this morning. The cancerous growth had eaten its way into the side of his neck below the angle of the jaw, involving large arteries, which became liable to rupture at any moment. Roach was in great pain all day yesterday, and to give him relief large doses of morphine were injected and he was unconscious most of the time. In the few conscious moments he had he spoke to his son Garrett, who was with him all the time. The young man remained with his father during the night. He occupied a seat at the bedside and helped the nurses, who applied soothing poultices and renewed injections of morphine every time the patient awakened. Only a few intimate friends of the family were admitted to the house yesterday, but nobody other than nurses and physicians was allowed to see Roach. Deceased leaves a widow, three sons and one daughter, all grown.

The family remained with Roach until 1 this morning. Dr. Taylor at 6 this morning detected the approach of death, and at once informed the family that Roach had only a few hours to live. The dying man sank slowly. He lost consciousness about 7:30. His end was unmarked by a struggle.

The date of the funeral has not been decided upon. It will take place from St. Paul's M. E. church. Roach was a member of the church. The interment will be in the family plot at Greenwood cemetery.

PORTLAND TUESDAY JANUARY 11 1887.

SHOWN IN THE INDEX.

There was some delay in effecting organization of the legislature, resulting from the efforts of the Portland ring to organize it in corporation, monopoly and political ring interests. In the main the effort succeeded, though the ring did not get for speaker of the house the man they preferred. But in getting Carson in as president of the senate, and in succeeding in their effort to defeat the proposition to have the senate appoint its committees, they got all that was really necessary. Though the power of appointing committees is left in Carson's hands, of course he will not appoint them That work will be done by the ring, under direction of Simon, Steel and other members of the corporation, monopoly, whisky and political combination, which, under the general leadership of Mitchell, and with the constant help of a democratic contingent, controls the republican party of Oregon The present object is to defeat all efforts to get legislation that would in anywise hurt corporation, monopoly or political ring interests. It is not supposed by the ring that many new jobs can be worked through for their behalf, but in all the old ones they have "vested rights," which it is the present object to protect and preserve This can be done through control of the senate, and there is no great need of putting forth effort upon the house, where the business would be more difficult to compass The people of Oregon may judge whether they are likely to get the legislation they demand from a senate organized and controlled by the combined ring that have their head in Portland. There is no need of waiting till the adjournment to make up an index to the proceedings. The index is furnished in the first pages of the volume, and the ring members are happy in the unhesitating belief that they read their title clear to all their plans and purposes

JUDGE HOYT'S RECENT OPINION

The opinion of Judge Hoyt, delivered at Olympia some days ago, confirming the grant of lands to the Northern Pacific Railroad company on the line from Portland to Tacoma, has been printed, and THE OREGONIAN has been favored with a copy. It is a matter of great importance, made so by the action taken by the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, who denied that there was any grant of lands to the company on their line between Portland and Tacoma. Determination of this question, Judge Hoyt said, must rest upon interpretation of three acts of congress, namely the act of July 2, 1864, which was the original act of incorporation by which the company was authorized to construct the road, and by which the grant of lands was made the joint resolution of April 10, 1869, which authorized the company to extend its line from Portland to Puget sound, and the joint resolution of May 31, 1870, by which the company was given the right "to locate and construct under the provisions and with the privileges, grants and duties provided in its act of incorporation, its main road to some point on Puget sound via the valley of the Columbia river, with the right to locate and construct its branch from some convenient point on its trunk line across the Cascade mountains to Puget sound"

Judge Hoyt says that the questions in this case are the most important ever presented to a court in the territory, and that he has given his best attention to consideration of them What then, he asks, is the reasonable and fair interpretation of the acts

In the original act the main line was to go to Puget sound on the most eligible route north of the 45th parallel, and there was to be a branch down the Columbia river to Portland There was ambiguity in this for the 45th parallel itself falls a considerable distance south of the line upon which the Columbia river pierces the Cascade mountains And yet it is apparent enough that the route for the main line intended in the original grant, could not fail in the Columbia valley, since provision had been made for a branch there The primary object of the original act, as Judge Hoyt truly says, was to secure a railroad across the continent to Puget sound, the secondary object, a railroad to Portland. The effect of the joint resolution of May 31, 1870, was to designate the road down the Columbia to Portland as the main line, and the road from some convenient point on the main trunk across the Cascade mountains to Puget sound as the branch line or as Judge Hoyt puts it, "the only effect as to the main line was to make certain that which before was doubtful, the right to locate it down the valley of the Columbia on its way to the same terminus provided in the original act. For," he continues, "keeping in mind that the construction of this main line was to Puget sound was the primary object of this legislation, and that to insure the accomplishment thereof the grant was originally made, it seems too clear for argument that such grant could not be taken away by this resolution, the only effect of which was to remove the embarrassment under which the company was laboring in locating such line, by reason of the provision in the original act for a branch down the Columbia river to Portland.

Upon this reasoning the resolution of April 10 1869, could have no force in determining the status of the original act and would really have no place in consideration of the question whether there was a grant of lands to the company on the line from Portland to Tacoma, or not This portion of the grant [illegible] then, for its validity on the resolution of April 10, 1869, which [illegible] Sparks [illegible] could not [illegible] but in the provision [illegible] lands to aid the construction of a railway to the continent to Puget sound

While THE OREGONIAN does not undertake to predict what the final determination of the question will be by the court of last resort, it may say, nevertheless that it finds Judge Hoyt's opinion a [illegible] it able to see [illegible] what grounds it can be [illegible] verted [illegible]

RELOADING OLD SHELLS

S[illegible] Ste[illegible] [illegible] suffrage [illegible] the right of foreigner [illegible] upon a ten years residence It [illegible] ment a great blunder It is an [illegible] revive the old Know Nothing and Native American" parties These parties had but a short life in this country, and yet their brief existence was enough to secure to the democracy the vast majority of the foreign vote The revival of this dead issue at this time is most unfortunate, and it is destined to complete and early failure. The late Vice-President Wilson, of Massachusetts was identified in early life with the "Know Nothing party and so was Senator Edmunds, in the outset of his political career The late Erastus Brooks of the N Y Express, labored for years to build up an American party, but miserably failed The competition for the foreign vote has always been so violent between both parties that all such movements are destined to early death There is an American party worth maintaining that is not a native American party at all but simply a party that is intensely loyal to fundamental American ideas and institutions, to free schools separation of church and state, loyalty to the flag and that for which it stands, federal supremacy —a party of genuine American sentiments and sympathies, traditions and principles which upholds law, maintains order, and stands by the will of the majority under the constitution Such a party would include every right minded man of all parties, all races, all bloods, whether of foreign or native birth. There is room in such a party for all naturalized citizens who obey and uphold the laws of the land The restriction of foreign emigration is a question that may some time press for consideration both East and West, but the restriction of suffrage to foreigners of ten years' residence is an ill timed and impracticable measure It is too late for it, if it was ever expedient, and in our judgment it was always inexpedient, on the ground that not length of days in the land but the qualification of elementary intelligence is the important consideration Many men might be fit for the suffrage within a short time after emigration to America, while many might never be valuable voters, no matter how long their residence. A reasonable length of time to assure the sincerity of the emigrant's intention to pitch his tent permanently with our people, and proof of the elementary intelligence which enables a man to read and write understandingly, is about all that is practicable or expedient to demand of the foreigner.

THE OREGON TITLE

What was called in former years "The Oregon Question has of late been receiving much attention. Many writers have offered contributions to the history of the subject, endeavoring to show how the title of the United States to the Oregon territory was acquired In a recent number of THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN was published an elaborate article by Hon Elwood Evans, formerly of Olympia, now of Tacoma, in which it was ably argued that our right to Oregon was acquired by a combination of titles, chief of which was the right acquired by the purchase of Louisiana.

THE OREGONIAN now has notice that a book is in preparation at New York by John J Anderson, A M, Ph D, (author of a series of school histories, including a history of the United States) entitled Oregon A Political History How we Secured It and How we Retained It in which the view is urged that Oregon was not included in the purchase of Louisiana that France never claimed beyond the Rocky mountains that Spain always claimed that Louisiana was limited by the Rocky mountains and that in all our negotiations with Spain in relation to Florida, and which included a full discussion of our Western boundaries, she never admitted for a moment that Louisiana extended west of the Rocky mountains, that neither Great Britain nor any of her writers upon the subject ever admitted that Louisiana extended west of the Rocky mountains, that until after the treaty of Florida, in 1819, our government never held that our title to Oregon was perfect and finally, that the title was perfected through the acquisition of Florida. That is, after we had purchased Florida, given up Texas to Spain, and Spain had ceded her right of Oregon to us, then we set up a complete claim to the Oregon country

We are told that this book will appear in a short time. Its appearance will be awaited with some interest by persons in the Pacific Northwest who have given study to the subject of which it treats

The death of Gen Logan leaves but three Union soldiers in the U S senate,—Gen Hawley of Connecticut, Gen Harrison of Indiana, and Gen Sewell of New Jersey The terms of these senators all expire the 4th of March next. Harrison may possibly be re-elected, but Sewell is pretty sure to be succeeded by a democrat. The South has in the senate the following ex Confederate soldiers, viz. Morgan, Pugh, Walker, Colquitt, Ransom, Hampton, Butler, Blackburn, Gibson, George, Cockrell, Vance, Harris, Maxey, Coke, Mahone, Riddleberger, Kenna. The South thinks more of her veterans evidently than the North does, or else more of the politicians of the South went to war.

If the calculations of the engineer are correct, Bull Run water may be brought into the city practically without increasing the cost of water to consumers In other words, there will be a saving of $32,100 a year, beginning two years hence through delivery of water from Bull Run by gravitation, upon the amount that would be expended for pumping and for fire service under the present system This saving will amount to the interest at 5 per cent. on $650,000 Upon this report the committee, with only a single dissenting voice have resolved to ask the legislature to authorize the necessary additional loan

Germany sent more people to the United States during the year 1886 than any other country Her total was nearly 90 000 England was next with about 60 000 then Ireland with 55 000 then Sweden and Norway with nearly 50,000 then Russia with over 30 000 and then Italy with nearly [illegible] 000 Scotland sent about 15 000 Ireland used to send many more than England and Scotland together but now England and Scotland together send 50 per cent more than Ireland And besides, of English and Scotch, many more come into the United States from Canada or through Canada

A RESPONSE TO MR JOHNSON

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I see in this morning's OREGONIAN a communication from our esteemed friend W C Johnson dated Oregon City Jan 8 1887 saying that after diligent inquiry he is satisfied that the family of [illegible] is not able to defray the expenses of disinterring his body in England and bringing it back to Portland Oregon for burial and asks would it not be the appropriate thing for the legislature which is to convene the coming week to appropriate a moderate sum sufficient to send a [illegible] (about $15 000 I suppose) to London to exhume the remains and bring them for their final resting place in his adopted state

Now I would like to suggest to the legislature and to my old friend W C Johnson who used to sign his name [illegible] to articles he wrote for my paper in 1856 a thing or two A C Gibbs would never have been governor of Oregon if I had not [illegible] him nominated over Dec Drew his competitor in the convention at Eugene City This Ben Harding and A Bush know to be so. Ex Gov A C Gibbs owes my wife to day over $1000 borrowed money which I worked for with callous hands He has never even paid one cent of the interest I propose to donate the money he owes me towards bringing him back to Oregon for burial Will W C Johnson throw in another $1000 and other patriots $ [illegible] each and save an already over taxed and tax ruined community from this expense? Of course I want the body brought home for burial and after I and W C Johnson contribute $1000 each it will only need a similar contribution from eight more philanthropists to save tax payers from a heavy burden Talk is cheap and it is very easy to call on the legislature to vote money out of the treasury [illegible] I propose to meet this exigency in a [illegible] W C Johnson and I will start a [illegible] at $1 000 each and to do it the $ [illegible] [illegible] Please ask the legislature [illegible] this matter entirely to W C Johnson and W [illegible] ADAMS

VARIOUS SUGGESTIONS

ALBANY, Jan 10 1887

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

As the legislature has now convened to revise existing laws and enact new ones it is opportune to offer suggestions On the stump and through the press both political parties are constantly agitating the necessity of retrenchment and reform in the assessment and taxation of the products and capital of the state and each party labors to be first to devise and inaugurate such reduction without materially curtailing the actual revenue below positive requirements All persons who have had energy industry economy and management enough to accumulate something worthy of the assessors notice look at a heavy tax on the result of their labor imposed for the privilege of existing and claiming protection under the laws as an onerous burden when they see the money they have just paid into the treasury absorbed in the support of idleness and petty theft

Our code on page 413 after enumerating certain things that constitute larceny says that if the amount stolen exceed $35 the punishment shall be imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than ten years [illegible] if the property stolen shall not exceed the value of $35 the punishment shall be imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month nor more than one year or fine not less than $25 nor more than $100 It is a notorious fact that a certain class of worthless vagabonds keep well versed in the legal degree of punishment for certain offenses and a term of a few months in the county jail with free board and lodging and no work to perform instead of being a punishment [illegible] during the winter season is a welcome [illegible] respite from their daily occupation that of a tramp They will steal $30 or $35 but will carefully guard the value that it shall not exceed $35 A few years or even months of jail or in the penitentiary or elsewhere is derogatory to the training and intention of a professional tramp [illegible] to be sent up for thirty or sixty days during the cold weather and released again on the approach of good weather is the height of their ambition A half dozen such wretches locked up together enjoy their vicious conversation and lawless planning for future pillage with as much zeal as their depraved ideas of the object of life can portray The real sufferers under the circumstances are the tax payers whose labor is assessed to support vagrancy At one time in the history of the world petit larceny was met by the rope or guillotine and then men seldom found it necessary to steal little things Then a house was safer without lock and key than now with lock and bar at the outer door and supposed burglar proof safe within The present laws pay a premium on dishonesty in offering bed and board with a waiter to furnish water and fuel to the free boarder Idleness assisted by our present laws begets dishonesty and pauperism A lazy man sees certain rest in pilfering and as rest is the most prominent thought he has the way to secure it is gladly embraced

The question is is there a better and more potent remedy for petit larceny without resorting to the ancient remedy of sending the thief to the gallows? Yes there certainly is. The whipping post has more horror in it to the lazy man than has the wheat field or woodman's ax and if those who are now committed to comfortable quarters as a punishment for vagrancy or larceny were committed to the public whipping post and given thirty or sixty lashes instead of thirty or sixty days food the crime now so prominent on our statute books would be almost unknown and instead of Oregon receiving a pressing immigration of migratory vagabonds each winter from the colder states and territories to return to their favored haunts on the opening of spring we might reasonably look at the stranger in our midst as a desirable addition to our number If Oregon has the vacant land, salubrious climate and varied inducements for the laboring man and capitalist that our state and local immigration boards unfold and send broadcast to the seeker after luxury and profit, what is the excuse for the state being overrun with beggars for alms and dangerous thieves if it is not to be found in too lenient laws The citizens of every municipality are so strained with taxation that Oregon towns are notoriously smaller and inferior in wealth than might be looked for in any country surrounded with the numerous unparalleled natural advantages that we possess Every town or hamlet that has a jail or calaboose can depend with exact certainty on having it filled each winter with the class that has called forth this article Their presence in a town is alone detrimental to its growth and prosperity and their presence in the jail or calaboose is decidedly detrimental to the prosperity of those who are called upon to buy sustenance and pay jailers to answer their bidding

Then why not reform? Why not reduce expenses and produce honesty and industry Why not resort to means that history teaches us was attended with good results in the past and make the culprit smart under the lash with little expense to the taxpayer and great reformation to the thief and his associates instead of legally robbing honesty to maintain a reward for dishonesty The accusation of inhumanity and barbarism offered against the whipping post is like many other false [illegible] of the present generation There is an [illegible] of humanitarianism that must have its day like all other manias and the present mode of tramp feeding and thief sheltering is but little more than a legal mania. It might seem rough to [illegible] lash [illegible] naked back of the thief who has only stolen $35 worth but if he had stolen $36 worth he would have been sent to the penitentiary A $35 thief is assured of one month to one year idleness board and lodging included generally with books and papers to read furnished by local societies whose members are too often holding meetings of prayer to excite public sympathy for some artful scoundrel who purchases the kind offerings of credulous humanitarians and eccentric religionists with deceitful tears and promises A successful tramp can weep as penitently for the soothing influence of a Christian woman's prayer as he does for the blissful influence of the saloon keeper's whisky bottle provided however he can see the smoke of hot coffee and roast beef arising from the friction of prayer against the emotional godliness of such self [illegible] inted [illegible] guileless religionists I shall not attempt to say Christian denominations [illegible] are [illegible] getting tramps for they are not but every community must have a class who weep large and copious tears—when in public pray loud and long—when their hearers are most numerous for the down fallen in yonder cell who is seeking the path of rectitude. A good rawhide or [illegible] in the hands of an able sheriff would [illegible] pointing out that well advertised path [illegible] vacant sections in Oregon [illegible] develop [illegible] baked beans that crack [illegible] [illegible] on the [illegible] from [illegible] day that Oregon legislators can make laws to punish instead of encourage petty crimes The object of theft in this state is which is some board and fair lodging and the average tramp greets the sitting of each successive legislature with ardent joy in anticipation of an improved bill of fare to be brought about through the influence of petitions from a horde of extremists whose principal trade is screwing themselves up to a key where they can cry [illegible] in public for the poor [illegible] outcast whose forty or fifty summers have been as unprofitable to himself as the world at large as his present time We have [illegible] for certain degrees of crime we punish [illegible] for certain other degrees why not whip them for other degrees [illegible] the whipping post now and if it proves [illegible] two years hence can return to the present [illegible]

The clerk read the minutes of a meeting of th[illegible] sub-committee held December [illegible] at which it wa[illegible] resolved to recommend the passage of the follow[illegible]

Until it be deemed best to organize a commis[illegible] sion the sub-committee be directed to take charg[illegible] of and manage the present waterworks and mak[illegible] all needful arrangements for an office and em[illegible] ployes necessary for carrying on the business. Also that the clerk of the committee be paid a[illegible] the rate of $100 a month from the date of his ap[illegible] pointment (December [illegible] 1886 to January 1 188[illegible] and that the pay shall be the same until furthe[illegible] notice.

GRAVITATION VS. PUMPING

A REPORT OF INTEREST TO EVERY TAXPAYE[illegible] AND WATER CONSUMER IN PORTLAND

The clerk read the following report which ha[illegible] been submitted to the sub-committee on the 7t[illegible] inst

PORTLAND July 6 1887

To the Sub Committee on Water Supply Por[illegible] land, Or—Gentlemen In accordance with you[illegible] instruction I present a comparative estimate [illegible] the probable annual cost two years hence, of th[illegible] water supply of the city of Portland for domesti[illegible] and fire service, by pumping, under the presen[illegible] system, from the Willamette river, and by the pro[illegible] posed system of gravity works from Bull Run.

The water is now pumped from the river at th[illegible] pumping station to the Sixth street reservoi[illegible] feet above the level of Front street for the lo[illegible] service, and thence for the high service by mean[illegible] of [illegible] pump to the Eighth street reservoi[illegible] which contains about 300,000 gallons, and is 24[illegible] feet above the level of Front street.

There are also at the foot of Lincoln street, a[illegible] [illegible] works, two pumps of one and of three mil[illegible] lion gallons capacity, which are held in reserve fo[illegible] [illegible] pressure to the Palatine hill pumps or force[illegible]

From a report of the Portland Water company of February [illegible] 1886, and the enclosed statemen[illegible] from the secretary of the company I estimate th[illegible] pumping expenses per annum with the presen[illegible] water consumption, to be as follows

Salaries sup engineers firemen etc	$ 6,0[illegible]
Fuel, delivery in furnace oil waste etc	13,9[illegible]
High service pumping expenses	1 [illegible]
Total	$21,5[illegible]

With a water pressure at the Palatine hill statio[illegible] of eighty-six pounds and the amount of wate[illegible] pumped as per enclosed statement of the secretar[illegible] of the Portland Water company the cost per mil[illegible] lion gallons raised 100 feet is $6 35 which is [illegible] per cent less than the minimum and 36 per cent less than the average cost during the year 1875 i[illegible] eighteen cities of the United States as shown b[illegible] the tabulated reports of the engineers

Taking into consideration the increased con[illegible] sumption from the proposed enlargement and ex[illegible] tension of the pipe lines the demand for elevator[illegible] and manufacturing purposes and the anticipate[illegible] increase of population it is probable that the con[illegible] sumption of water will increase 33 per cent. withi[illegible] the next two years and the cost of fuel etc. ex[illegible] clusive of salaries will be nearly in proportion t[illegible] the consumption and on this assumption the ex[illegible] penses of pumping two years hence will be as fol[illegible]

Salaries as per statement of the Portland Water company	$6,000 0[illegible]
Fuel, oil for high and low service	2[illegible],070 0[illegible]
Total	$26,070 00

Should the gravity works from Bull Run be con[illegible] structed as proposed the water will be delivere[illegible] into a reservoir in the City park 260 feet abov[illegible] the level of Front street but as this elevatio[illegible] would give a pressure on the low service pipe[illegible] greater than is desirable the water will be distrib[illegible] uted from a tank sixty five feet below and in fal[illegible] ing from the reservoir to the tank will be used t[illegible] drive a hydraulic pump by means of which [illegible] a pressure may be maintained in all portions o[illegible] the city less than 300 feet above the level of Firs[illegible] street, either by means of a reservoir or by direc[illegible] pressure.

For the annual cost of maintaining and operati[illegible] the gravity system exclusive of office expenses an[illegible] salaries of commissioners and collectors I mak[illegible] the following estimate

On pipe line, three men at $720	$ 2 1[illegible]
repairs and extra expenses	1,00[illegible]
Engineers and repairs to hydraulic pump, working day and night for fire purposes	2,00[illegible]
Supervision and care of steam pumps	1,2[illegible]
Total, exclusive of general expenses	6 3[illegible]
Pumping expenses as above stated	27,33[illegible]
Difference in favor of gravity system	$20,3[illegible]

SAVING IN THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

From the board of fire commissioners I have th[illegible] following information in relation to the annual ex[illegible] penses of the fire department

The estimate of expenses for 188[illegible] is nearly $6[illegible] 000, including the running expenses of four engin[illegible] companies one hook and ladder company, an[illegible] two hose companies and within two years it [illegible] probable that two additional engine companie[illegible] will be required

Should a fire pressure be maintained on all hy[illegible] drants within the city limits the running expense[illegible] of each engine company could be reduced to th[illegible] sum required for maintaining a hose company[illegible] keeping the engines in reserve against any possibl[illegible] emergency which might necessitate their use

The average expenses for 1885 and 1886 was $580[illegible] for an engine company and $3800 for a hose com[illegible] pany and assuming that six engines will be re[illegible] quired within two years the reduction in the e[illegible] penses of the fire department by maintaining a fir[illegible] pressure on all hydrants within the city limits[illegible] would be $2000 on each engine company and [illegible] $[illegible] in all.

The efficiency of the service would also be large[illegible] ly increased because as stated by an engineer o[illegible] large experience A water pressure of 60 to 8[illegible] pounds per square inch in the hydrants in the vi[illegible] cinity of an incipient fire has a value which cann[illegible] be wholly replaced by a brigade of fire steamers i[illegible] the reason for with [illegible] hose carriages an[illegible] mounted horsemen con [illegible] will usually be made with the hydrants straight be put in motion an[illegible] the fire overpowered before the pressure is raise[illegible] in steamers boilers and the fire will not be [illegible] lowed to assume unconquerable headway durin[illegible] the delay

In these conclusions both as to the expense an[illegible] efficiency of the service I am supported by th[illegible] president and the chief engineer of the board o[illegible] fire commissioners with whom I have confer[illegible] on the subject

THE TOTAL SAVING

For the reasons above stated I am therefore [illegible] opinion that under the probable conditions of th[illegible] water supply two years hence the difference in op[illegible] erating expenses by pumping under the prese[illegible] system and by the gravity system from Bull Ru[illegible] will be as follows

Cost by pumping [illegible] Salaries [illegible] Fuel oil etc [illegible]

Cost by gravity [illegible] Salaries on pipe line $ 2 160 [illegible] Repairing pipe line 1 0[illegible] Hydraulic pump [illegible] 0[illegible] Steam pumps 1 [illegible]

Difference in favor of gravity system $ [illegible] Add reduction in fire dept expense 1[illegible]

Total difference $3[illegible]

The capitalized value of this reduction in th[illegible] operating expenses does not however represen[illegible] the comparative value of the investments b[illegible] cause, while the expenses by the gravity system wi[illegible] practically be constant the expense of pumpin[illegible] will increase with the consumption of water an[illegible] the height of delivery and the difference of ex[illegible] pense with the total consumption the increase [illegible] population on the higher levels and the enlar[illegible] ment of the fire department.

In this estimate I have not included the reduc[illegible] tion in the expenses of the fire department at th[illegible] expiration of the contract with the Hydrauli[illegible] Elevator company to whom the city now pay[illegible] $[illegible] per annum for hydrant and fire service Re[illegible] spectfully submitted ISAAC W SMITH Engineer of the Water Committee.

GRAVITATION VS. PUMPING.

[illegible] OF INTEREST TO EVERY TAXPAYER AND WATER CONSUMER IN PORTLAND.

[illegible] read the following report, which had been submitted to the sub-committee on the 7th

PORTLAND, July 6 188[illegible]

To the Sub-Committee on Water Supply Portland—Gentlemen. In accordance with your [illegible] I present a comparative estimate of [illegible] annual cost two years hence, of the [illegible] of the city of Portland, for domestic [illegible] by pumping, under the present [illegible] the Willamette river, and by the proposed [illegible] gravity works from Bull Run.

[illegible] now pumped from the river at the [illegible] to the Sixth street reservoir [illegible] level of Front street for the low [illegible] for the high service by means [illegible] to the Eighth street reservoir, [illegible] 300,000 gallons, and is 245 [illegible] Front street. [illegible] at the foot of Lincoln street, at [illegible] two pumps of nine and of three million [illegible] which are held in reserve in [illegible] Palatine hill pumps or force [illegible]

[illegible] report of the Portland Water company [illegible] 1886, and the enclosed statement [illegible] secretary of the company I estimate the [illegible] expenses per annum, with the present [illegible] to be as follows

[illegible], engineers, foremen, etc	$ 6 000
[illegible] furnace, oil, waste etc	13 000
[illegible], pumping expenses	[illegible]
[illegible]	$21 527

[illegible] pressure at the Palatine hill station [illegible] pounds and the amount of water [illegible] enclosed statement of the secretary [illegible] Water company, the cost per million [illegible] raised 100 feet, is $6 95 which is 2 [illegible] than the minimum and 6 per cent [illegible] average cost during the year 1885 in [illegible] cities of the United States, as shown by [illegible] reports of the engineers.

[illegible] consideration, the increased consumption [illegible] the proposed enlargement and extension [illegible] pipe lines, the demand for elevators [illegible] purposes and the anticipated [illegible] population it is probable that the consumption of water will increase 33 per cent. within [illegible] years, and the cost of fuel etc, expenses [illegible] will be nearly in proportion to [illegible] and on this assumption the expense of pumping two years hence will be as follows

[illegible] per statement of the Portland [illegible] company	$6 000 00
[illegible] high and low service	20 070 00
[illegible]	$26,070 00

[illegible] gravity works from Bull Run be constructed [illegible] proposed, the water will be delivered [illegible] reservoir in the City park 65 feet above [illegible] Front street, but as this elevation [illegible] a pressure on the low service pipes [illegible] is desirable, the water will be distributed [illegible] a tank sixty five feet below and in fall [illegible] reservoir to the tank will be used to [illegible] hydraulic pump by means of which a [illegible] may be maintained in all portions of [illegible] than 300 feet above the level of First [illegible] by means of a reservoir or by direct [illegible]

[illegible] annual cost of maintaining and operating [illegible] system, exclusive of office expenses and [illegible] of commissioners and collectors, I make [illegible] estimate

[illegible], three men at $720	$ 2 160
[illegible] repairs and extra expenses	1,000
[illegible] and repairs to hydraulic pump
[illegible] day and night, for fire purposes	[illegible] 000
[illegible] and care of steam pumps	1 [illegible]00
[illegible], exclusive of general expenses	[illegible]
[illegible] expenses as above stated	27 300
[illegible] in favor of gravity system	$20 310

[illegible] THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

[illegible] board of fire commissioners I have the [illegible] information in relation to the annual expenses of the fire department.

[illegible] of expenses for 1887 is near y $ 0 [illegible] the running expenses of four engine [illegible] one hook and ladder company and [illegible] companies, and within two years it is [illegible] that two additional engine companies [illegible] required.

[illegible] fire pressure be maintained on all hydrants [illegible] the city limits, the running expenses [illegible] engine company could be reduced to the [illegible] for maintaining a hose company [illegible] the engines in reserve against any possible [illegible] which might necessitate their use. [illegible] expenses for 1885 and 1886 was $5,800 [illegible] company, and $3800 for a hose company [illegible] assuming that six engines will be required [illegible] two years, the reduction in the expense [illegible] fire department by maintaining a fire [illegible] all hydrants within the city limits [illegible] $2000 on each engine company and [illegible]

[illegible] efficiency of the service would also be largely [illegible] because, as stated by an engineer of [illegible] experience "A water pressure of 60 to 80 [illegible] per square inch in the hydrants in the vi[illegible] of an incipient fire has a value which cannot [illegible] replaced by a brigade of fire steamers in [illegible] for, with light hose carriages and [illegible] connection will usually be made [illegible] hydrants streams be put in motion and [illegible] overpowered before the pressure is raised [illegible] boilers and the fire will not be still [illegible] assume unconquerable headway during [illegible]"

[illegible] conclusions both as to the expense and [illegible] of the service I am supported by the [illegible] and the chief engineer of the board of [illegible] commissioners, with whom I have conferred [illegible] subject.

THE TOTAL SAVING.

[illegible] reasons above stated I am therefore of [illegible] that under the probable conditions of the [illegible] supply two years hence the difference in operating expenses by pumping under the present [illegible] and by the gravity system from Bull Run [illegible] follows

[illegible] pumping

ADDITIONAL ISSUE OF BONDS.

[illegible] DECIDED TO ASK THE LEGISLATURE FOR AUTHORITY FOR $500 000 MORE

[illegible] announced that in compliance with instructions he had prepared an amendment to the water bill, asking the legislature to confer upon the committee authority to issue $500,000 additional water bonds, which the clerk read. The amendment simply substitutes the figures $1 200 000 in place of $700 000 in section 153.

Mr Loewenberg moved, and Mr Ladd seconded, that the chairman be requested to send the amendment to the legislature for action, one copy to the senate, and one to the house.

Mr. Reed, who had prepared himself with quite a number of data, wanted the matter further examined, he was not prepared to vote on the question. He did not think the city justified in spending $ 00 000 in bringing in Bull Run water. The object of the committee's creation was to furnish water cheap. They own the water works now they can reduce present rates one-half and create a sinking fund of $12,000 to $15 000 a year. The pumping capacity of the works is three times what our present population demands. To bring in Bull Run we are jumping a great way ahead.

According to the engineer's report, the principal saving is to be in the fire department. Now let us see what we can do with the present system. We have mains on First street and Third street, with sixty five pounds pressure, which is ample for fire purposes to a sixty five foot elevation. Taking the contour of the city I find that these two mains will supply as far northwest as North Eighteenth and G to the river as far west as Seventh and Taylor to the river as far southwest as Fourth and Columbia and as far south as Front and Harrison. This covers the principal part of the city. We have invested $500 000 in the water works now.

The interest on $500 000 is	$25 000 00
Pumping expenses annually are	20 125 [illegible]
Total	$45 125 [illegible]

Estimated receipts for 1887 are $115 000 reduce these one half we have $[illegible]000.

This leaves $12 [illegible] to pay running expenses and create a sinking fund.

Mr Reed did not think it to the interest of the city to create an indebtedness of $1 200 000 for water works with an annual interest account of $60 000 to meet by taxation. The city would never be able to create a sinking fund to redeem the bonds. He regarded Willamette river water as pure and wholesome, and could see no practical benefit from bringing in Bull Run, except to get better fire service. If that was all the city wanted, let a fire pump be established at the Sixth street reservoir.

Mr Loewenberg, replying to Mr Reed, said the one question before the committee was to determine where the cheapest and the best water supply was to be obtained. Mr Smith, the engineer of the committee estimates that we can save $[illegible] 700 a year by gravitation as against pumping. The interest on $700 000 the amount required to build the pipe line is $35,000 a year only $2300 a year more for Bull Run water than Willamette river. We can reduce water rates very nearly as much under the Bull Run as under the present system. The additional cost of maintaining the pumping system is almost an offset against the interest on $700 000 additional bonds.

This fact, above all, should be considered. The people want Bull Run water. Nine out of every ten consumers prefer it even at a considerable increase over the price of Willamette water and we will be able to furnish Bull Run water, whenever the pipe line shall be finished, at only a trifle greater cost than Willamette water at that time will cost. In five years the cost of Bull Run water will no doubt be less than Willamette water would be five years from now if the pipe line is not built. He desired to correct the misapprehension that the interest on the bonds was a tax upon property. Property did not pay this interest. Water consumers paid it. The millionaire paid no more than the day laborer except as the number of faucets in his house exceeded those of the laborer. The poor people and the medium class are the ones who clamor for pure water. It is the intention of the committee to charge consumers just what the water costs the city and no more. After five years the committee may set aside 1 per cent. per annum as a sinking fund as provided by the act. If the $700 000 had been expended and Bull Run water brought in to-day, present rates could be reduced one third at once and by the time Bull Run shall have been brought in say two years hence we could reduce rates one half. We want pure and wholesome water, and it is our duty to secure the franchises already obtained.

Referring to Mr Reed's statement that the present water works had pumping capacity for a city of three times Portland's population Mr Loewenberg called on Mr Gates for a statement.

Mr Gates said that he was informed by the engineer at the water works that last January, during the cold snap when every one kept faucets open to prevent pipes freezing, the pumps running at full capacity were barely able to furnish a supply.

Mr Reed—Won't the water be wasted just the same from Bull Run under the same circumstances?

Mr Loewenberg—But we won't be paying for pumping this wasted water.

Mr Reed called attention to the fact that according to the statement of the water company, they pumped 144,100,000 gallons in August and only 11[illegible] 294 143 gallons in January last year which showed that the pumps were not taxed to their capacity in January.

Mr Gates remarked in his practical way that in August, the river being high, the pumps did not have to lift the water so far as in January when the water was very low. A disastrous fire is as likely to occur in midwinter as in midsummer.

Mr Ladd remarked that the committee did not expect to pay the bonds at maturity. Whatever amount the sinking fund fell short could be refunded.

Mr Loewenberg said he did not object to his children paying off some of the debt. They would receive the benefits of pure water and ought to pay for it.

Mr Corbett said the committee was in duty bound to ask the legislature for authority to issue more bonds. There was plenty of time to decide whether the money should be expended at once or not. The legislature would not meet again for two years, and it would be the part of wisdom to be prepared to go ahead with the Bull Run enterprise. If we do not go ahead, we might go slowly we may lose our franchise and not be able to regain it without great cost.

Mr W K Smith indorsed what Mr Corbett had said.

The question of the purity of Bull Run water was brought up in an informal way and a sample of the water which was taken out of the river during a high stage, February 5 1886 and had stood in a bottle in Mr Ladd's office ever since, was brought out for inspection. It appeared perfectly pure. The opinion of the committee was that the water was as clear and healthful as any in the world. Mr Ladd stated he had been informed by Mr Schussler, the engineer of the Spring Valley Water company who is regarded as without a peer in this country in the matter of judgment as to water supply, that if Portland secured Bull Run water we would have better water than any other city in the world except one city in Scotland.

Mr Reed explained that he had not been opposed to Bull Run but now that the water works were bought he saw no necessity for Bull Run. If he had supposed the committee intended to bring in Bull Run anyhow he never would have voted for the purchase of the water works. He would have insisted on Bull Run and disregarded the water company entirely.

Mr Loewenberg's motion to send the amendment to the legislature was then put. Mr Fleischner called for the ayes and noes, and the vote stood:

Aye Messrs Fleischner Gates, Johnson Knapp Ladd Lewis Loewenberg Richardson E C Smith W K Smith Therkelsen and the chairman—1[illegible]

THE STAGE.

THE CASINO.—The most complete and perfect first performance of a new opera by the Thompson Opera company was that given last night of "Victor the Bluestocking." The outline of the plot has already appeared in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN and a repetition of it is unnecessary. Sufficient to say that it went with a smoothness and snap that was a surprise to most of the audience. The music of the opera is bright and charming and the choruses have sufficient animation and force to render them attractive. The opera was a decided hit and will undoubtedly have a successful run. The role of the heroine Fanchette, by Miss Louise Fiseing, was a beautiful rendition both in acting and singing. She looked most charmingly and sang the "Sailor boy" song to a triple encore. Miss G [illegible] gave another illustration of her versatility in her personification of the Countess Celestine. In her disguise as a peasant girl in the first act she was most natural but appeared to the best advantage in her magnificent dress in the second act. She walked [illegible] like a queen and acted her part with all the artistic fidelity which characterizes her work. Harry Brown also made a hit as the Marquis. This role was entirely different from any he has as yet assumed here but he achieved a signal triumph in it and his singing of the tropical song "It's Only a Matter of Taste" was doubly encored. Mr Wolff we regret to say totally [illegible] conceives the roll of Sergeant Gruyere [illegible] making him a [illegible] German. An Irishman would have been pardonable but a German sergeant commanding French troops in the days of the Bastile was a little too much. W H West's acting, and singing of the role of Victor was a pleasing surprise to all his friends. He sang in good style and acted the part with a conscientiousness and faithfulness to its demands that gained him general applause. Hattie Starr made a most charming boy and earned the applause of the audience. The remainder of the cast and the chorus were very good and fully up to the requirements. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the setting of the opera. The second act set painted by Gus Veltz was one of the prettiest scenes that has appeared on the boards and met with great applause. The costuming barring the military was good.

"Victor the Bluestocking" again to-night.

BENEFIT.—Mr J W McConnell and Fred M [illegible] late members of the New Market Theater Stock company, will have a joint benefit on Saturday evening at the above named theater. Both gentlemen are well known as capable actors, and have done some good work during the season with the Jeffreys Lewis and Georgie Woodthorpe companies. They will be ably assisted by Miss Laura Biggar a well known and favorite Eastern soubrette. She will produce, for the first time in Portland the musical and society comedy "Jack" in which she will sing a number of new songs and operatic selections and what is always interesting to the ladies, will wear some handsome dresses. She has quite a reputation as a dresser. Her costumes in New York city were considered by the press as exquisite.

CHANGING THE CHARTER.

An Effort to Ring in a Cold Deck Balked in the Council.

A Fruitless Meeting of the City Fathers Last Night—The Minority Report Does not Get a Hearing

An adjourned meeting of the common council was held last evening, Mayor Gates in the chair and all the members present.

The object of the meeting was to consider the proposed amendments to the city charter prepared by the committee appointed for that purpose. As far as carrying out this object went, the meeting was a dead failure, the result being the same as when the devil sheared the pig—a great cry and little wool. It is generally understood that the whole business will amount to nothing as without certain amendments one faction do not want the charter changed, and the other faction will not have these amendments at any price.

PETITIONS COMMUNICATIONS, ETC

From Henry P Chase asking that an ordinance be passed authorizing the redemption of his property sold for delinquent sewer assessment he having paid the assessment and costs referred to judiciary committee.

From the board of police commissioners, giving notice of the late appointments on the police force filed.

From the same body, presenting an estimate of the expenses of the police department for the current year $50 626 referred to committee on ways and means.

PROPOSED REVISIONS TO THE CHARTER.

The select committee appointed to prepare amendments to the city charter presented their report.

Auditor Wood announced that the report was not signed by a majority of the committee the only names attached being those of Councilmen Farrell and Hacheney and City Attorney Tanner.

Gallagher moved that further consideration of the documents be postponed till next meeting of the council. He thought it would be proper to wait till the message of the new governor had been seen and it was found what he recommended.

Farrell said he did not see what this had to do with the case. He did not suppose the governor would lay out any plan for the guidance of the council. He could not see how it was going to help the matter by laying it over.

Gallagher asserted that the matter ought to be laid over out of courtesy to the governor.

Forbes was opposed to postponing the matter. This meeting had been called for this especial purpose. He did not think the governor would make any practical reference to our city affairs and he was in favor of finishing the business immediately.

Gerdes said the council had no right to consider the matter at all. A report not signed by a majority was no report at all. It was not proper to go on till a majority of the committee had signed the report.

Gallagher moved to refer the report back to the committee.

Gerdes said City Attorney Tanner would like to get in a few more amendments in regard to street improvements.

Mr Tanner said Gerdes had misunderstood him. He wished the amendments concerning streets passed whether other amendments were passed or not. If they expected to get any legislation they must get their bill to Salem in time. He thought the council had better go on and read the amendments. Mr Williams would sign the report.

Forbes urged that the council proceed to business, and he moved as an amendment to Mr Gallagher's motion, that they proceed to take up the charter section by section and pass upon the amendments.

Gerdes insisted that the report was no report unless signed by a majority.

Gallagher's motion to refer back was put and lost by a vote of 6 to 3 Gerdes Gallagher and Hoiland voting aye but Gallagher changing his vote before the vote was announced.

He then moved to reconsider the vote on the ground that it was illegal, as the council had no right to consider the report unless it was signed by a majority.

Gerdes saw it looked as if the council was determined to bulldoze the matter through. He called their attention to rule 22 which says "No report shall be received as a report of a committee unless the same be signed by a majority of the committee." He insisted that they obey these rules.

And so the talk went on Hacheney Gallagher and Forbes all going for the matter in fine style.

Woodward said the mayor had appointed a committee to draft amendments to the charter, and he did not see the necessity of the council passing on them. He could not see why a set of ignoramuses like himself should waste time wrangling over the matter.

Gallagher's motion to reconsider was put and lost by 6 to 3 the First ward delegation voting for it.

Farrell moved to suspend rule 2.

Forbes moved to adjourn till 9 o'clock that other members of the committee might be found to sign the report.

This motion carried.

A carriage was dispatched for Hon R Williams, and Councilman Woodward retired in disgust. Mr Williams shortly arrived and signed the report.

At 9 o'clock the meeting was called to order.

Hacheney moved that the amendment be adopted as a whole.

Gerdes asked for the reading of the report.

Gallagher wanted to know if there had been any changes made in the amendments since the last meeting of the committee.

Auditor Wood read the formal report of the committee stating that they had considered the accompanying amendments and thought they were what the city required.

Gerdes submitted a minority report.

Gallagher objected to its being read till the amended charter accompanying the majority report had been read.

Gerdes insisted on his report being read.

The auditor was instructed to read the proposed amendments.

Gallagher insisted on the whole charter with the amendments being read.

Gerdes insisted that the minority report be read first. He wished Hon R Williams to throw some light on some of the points it contained. It is understood that the principal difference in the two reports is that the minority wished an amendment inserted making the offices of city surveyor superintendent of streets police judge and city attorney elective.

Forbes said Gerdes knew he was wrong but he wanted to cause delay.

Gerdes jumped to his feet but the mayor informed him that he had already spoken more times than the law allowed and if he would keep quiet for a while the auditor would read the amendments.

This he proceeded to do the councilmen turning over the copies of the charter and keeping themselves posted as to what the changes proposed were.

Everything went along peacefully till the amendment to the first subdivision of section 37 was reached.

This amendment provided that 4½ mills of the tax levy of 10 mills should be set aside for the fire department and 1½ mills for the police department leaving [illegible] mills for the general fund.

On hearing this read Farrell bounded out of his chair and said that the committee had never adopted that amendment. It had been read and talked over but was never agreed to by the committee. The clause had been proposed by J Simon but it was never agreed to.

Mr Williams who had come in, said he was of the same opinion as Mr Farrell.

Forbes remarked that the report did not amount to much. It appears councilmen had signed it without knowing what they were signing.

Farrell said he thought it did not amount to much.

Gerdes asked, "What did you sign it for?"

Farrell replied "Because I supposed it was right. We passed amendments and they were left for some one to write up."

Williams said the committee had made no changes.

Farrell said he went in with Gallagher. He moved that the report be referred back to the committee to see if they could find anything in it which they had recommended. The motion carried.

It was moved to adjourn.

Forbes said there were some resolutions to be considered.

The ayes and noes were ordered and the motion was carried.

was badly broken up by the charge made against him by Chu Guy but as he is now back with Capt Carroll he is satisfied with the way things turned out. Chu Guy was found to be an unreliable fellow.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

SUICIDE.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Coroner DeLin was notified that a dead man had been found on the Columbia river slough four and one half miles from the Vancouver road. He at once repaired to the scene and returned with the remains. At 3 o'clock a jury was impaneled which on a hearing of the testimony obtainable rendered the following verdict: "That Theodore Miller came to his death about December 14 by hanging himself while in a fit of insanity four and a half miles from the Vancouver road." Deceased was born in Berlin, May 2 18[illegible] and was [illegible] years old. He was found by a man named Samuel Hunter who was hauling wood in company with his son for Lewis Love who owns property adjoining where the body was found. Miller was lying on his back over a fallen log with a string around his neck broken. The other end of the string was found tied to a hazel bush directly above the log. Miller during the fall had been in the employ of Rummelin & Gutman furriers. He was a furrier by trade. On December 4 he was paid off disappearing a few days afterward since which time nothing has been known of his whereabouts. When found a pass book bearing the name Theodore Miller, $3 [illegible] in money some railroad maps and a brass key to which is attached a tag stamped with the figure [illegible] was found on his person.

SAUNDERS IN SAFE QUARTERS.—W W Saunders convicted of the murder of Chas Campbell at Albany was brought down from that city on Saturday and placed in the jail at Salem by Sheriff Smith. When the door closed on Saunders, Sheriff Smith gave a sigh of relief and exclaimed "There! he's safe at last." The cause of Saunders's removal from the Albany jail was this. Ever since the supreme court reversed the decision of the lower court there has been a great deal of dissatisfaction among the Albany people and threats were made against Saunders's safety. The discontent took definite shape on last Wednesday night when a crowd of about thirty persons assembled at the Albany school house about midnight and started toward the jail. But for some reason the mob took fright and disbanded. About this time the county saw fit to remove the guard which had been placed over Saunders and the care of his prisoner became very onerous to Sheriff Smith. He therefore got permission from the county court to remove Saunders to Salem.

DRIVING ASSOCIATION MEETING.—A meeting of the Multnomah Driving association was held at the office of Mr O F Paxton last evening. The permanent organization of the association was completed. The officers are President S G Reed vice-president, R B Knapp, secretary O F Paxton treasurer Thomas M Richardson corresponding secretary, W W Baker. This is an organization formed by a large number of gentlemen of Portland and East Portland for the purpose of stimulating interest in road driving and to provide a road for that purpose. Much interest is being manifested in the project. Many of the principal business men and heavy property owners of the city are taking an active part in the organization and a good driving road for the coming season is assured. It will be a source of gratification to have a road where gentlemen can drive with comfort and safety. The road to be improved and kept in condition has not yet been decided upon, but some suitable road easy of access will be selected.

FORGER PARDONED.—James Murphy who was sentenced to the state prison for ten years from Multnomah county, has been pardoned by Gov Moody upon the recommendation of the board of pardons. About three and one half years ago Murphy, accompanied by his wife arrived here from California. Before being in Portland a month Murphy was arrested for passing forged passes money checks etc upon the Oregon Railway & Navigation company. He was tried found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years. Mrs Murphy went to Salem and took up her residence there and ever since has been working for her husband's pardon. He was pardoned on condition that he leave the state. His wife started for San Francisco by way of Yaquina on Friday morning and Murphy was released Saturday morning and immediately started after his wife.

GOT HIS PRISONER.—Sheriff Thomas Cunningham of San Joaquin county, Cal is in the city. He came here overland and had a very rough trip. The object of his visit is to obtain one Albert H Hamilton arrested here some time since for forgery committed at Stockton. Sheriff Cunningham was obliged to stop at Salem to obtain the necessary papers and could not get here in time to take the last steamer. He does not care to make the trip overland again so will wait for the next steamer. Hamilton who is about 19 years old took a letter from the postoffice at Stockton addressed to Albert F Hamilton and containing a check for $412. He succeeded in getting this check cashed and then left for San Francisco and afterward came here, where he was arrested.

MOOT COURT.—The law students of this city have established a moot court under the name of the University Law club, the object of the same being fellowship and promotion in legal attainments. Attorneys of the state may become honorary members. A permanent organization has been effected by the election of the following officers: President Mr Booth secretary Mr Marsh treasurer Mr McGinn sergeant-at-arms, Mr Emmons. The judge of the moot court will be selected from the list of honorary members by the president.

RAILWAY GUIDE.—Lewis & Dryden's official Railway Guide for January is now ready for distribution. They begin the new year with a new lithograph cover showing Portland East Portland the proposed Union depot, the O R & N and Morrison street bridges across the Willamette also a new map showing the transportation system of the O R & N lines and the Pacific Coast Steamship company. Many other improvements will follow each month.

NECESSITY FOR COMPLETION.—There seems to be urgent necessity for the immediate completion of the Portland & Willamette Valley railway from the present terminus at Elk Rock into this city. The shipment of freight is a great bother and some kinds of freight such as wood cannot be carried on this account. The O R & N Co make through rates from Albany or Hay's Landing to San Francisco but it will not make such a rate from Elk Rock.

ROBBED HIS EMPLOYER.—James Morgan who has been engaged in the candy factory of Hoffman & Muller, at Albany robbed his employers till of $20 last Saturday morning. He was tracked to Salem and the authorities notified to keep a sharp lookout for him. He is tall dark complexioned small mustache and wore a dark coat and hat and light trousers. Morgan is the man who attempted to commit suicide a few weeks since by taking laudanum.

PRIZE MATINEE.—A cash prize of $[illegible] will be given to the child bringing the largest number of words. The only letters to be used are those composing the name of Laura Biggar. Each child is to write the words and number of them on a slip of paper with his or her name and present it at the door no later than 2 o'clock. At the end of the third act the prize will be awarded to the lucky one.

BUOYS GONE.—The second class buoy at the entrance to Tillamook bay is reported gone and the No 1 first class can buoy just inside that which lay bar is also reported gone. As soon as the weather may the second class nun buoy will be replaced by a first class perpendicular striped buoy.

WORKING GIRLS' NIGHT SCHOOL

Those who had the pleasure of listening to Mr Charles Dudley during his previous engagement in this city will be pleased to hear that he is soon to return and give his popular lecture "The Arch of Triumph" in the Y M C A hall on Tuesday evening January 18, to be followed on Friday the 21st by an evening of dramatic readings upon which occasion he will be assisted by the charming prima donna Miss Laura Biggar and our best local talent in vocal and instrumental selections.

Mr Dudley will appear under the management of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union and in the aid of the night school for working girls—a most worthy object and one which should meet the approval and support of all who are interested in the education and elevation of the masses.

The school is now in active operation and success should crown the efforts of its projectors. Tickets for the lecture are for sale at D W Prentice's music store. Only 50 cents for the course including reserved seats. Young ladies of the union will visit our business houses during this week soliciting the sale of tickets and we speak for them a cordial reception and liberal patronage.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Complaints from London against Inferior Fall Salmon—Resolutions of Confidence in U S Engineers—New Wagon Road

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trade was held last evening. President Macleay in the chair.

COMMUNICATIONS

From Representative Hermann acknowledgment of letter regarding Cape Hancock cable.

From Senators Dolph and Mitchell, acknowledging receipt of similar letter.

From J H. Todd of Victoria, B C inclosing a letter from H C Beeton dated at London referring to fall packed salmon. Mr Beeton represents the British Columbia Commercial company and says much inferior salmon is being sold in England coming from the Pacific coast, and quoting the deterioration of the sardine interest as showing to what extent bad packing can hurt the fish industries. Letters referred to Messrs Elliott Warren and Farrell as a committee.

From W J Burns, introducing amendments to the by laws.

From J McCraken regretting inability to be present at the meeting and asking that a committee be appointed to present an opinion with regard to the interstate commerce bill now pending in congress.

Mr Dodd urged the importance of action and wanted a good committee appointed, seeming to favor the bill or at least expressing no fear of serious results following its passage.

The matter was referred to a committee of fifteen to be appointed by the president at his earliest convenience and to report at a special meeting to be called for that purpose. President Macleay announced that he would appoint the committee to-day.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

From the committee appointed in July last to act with committee from the G. A. R. on display of Oregon products at San Francisco last August detailing the work done committee discharged.

OTHER BUSINESS

B Goldsmith was elected to membership.

G H Atkinson read a lengthy report from the meteorological committee. The report dealt with the condition and location of the signal office here its instruments, books and papers and told of the valuable work done by it. The committee presented the importance of a station at Umatilla, the one once located there having long since been discontinued. The report was accepted.

FAVOR DESERTS BEING RECLAIMED

The following resolution was presented by the committee and passed:

WHEREAS, The great American desert described in old geographies has now become a region of rich agricultural land in Kansas and Nebraska by means of the plow, the orchard and the timber culture acting as condensers of invisible vapor and,

WHEREAS, The same processes are producing the same results in reclaiming the so called desert plains of the upper Columbia region.

Resolved, That it is in our view a wise policy for the government to continue to encourage the extension of farms orchards and timber culture by the same liberal grants as in the past, until the farming lands of the great region extend until they meet.

PROPOSED ROAD TO EASTERN OREGON

John Minto of Salem, spoke at some length urging cheaper and more direct communication between Western and Eastern Oregon by a wagon road from Marion county near Salem, to Prineville in Crook county and into Southern Oregon and asking indorsement of the plans now working before the legislature to secure such roads. The matter was referred to the legislative committee.

EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE IN THE ENGINEERS

Mr Corbett spoke in favorable terms of Gen Parke and Col Wilson of the U S Engineers' department and asked the board to pass the following resolution therefore be it

WHEREAS Recent information leads us to believe that the delay in the work at the Cascades of the Columbia was caused by necessary examination and proper consideration of plans presented and to be adopted by the engineer department at Washington,

Resolved, That while there may be differences of opinion as to the proper mode of improving our waterways, the engineer department has our unqualified confidence.

Resolved, That their frequent recommendations and co-operation with the local engineers and this board entitle them to our highest esteem and for the deep interest they have ever taken in the development of the rivers and harbors of the North west we shall be ever grateful.

The resolution was referred to a committee consisting of Messrs Corbett, Kapus Steel, Dodd and Molson.

POUND NET GILL NET FISH WHEEL

Mr Dodd brought up the question of pound net vs gill net vs fish wheel moving that a committee of five be appointed to look into the question and formulate a bill to be presented to the state legislature. The president announced that he would appoint a committee later the motion being carried. Adjourned.

The Muddle in the Indiana Legislature.

THURMAN FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Dr. McGlynn Means to Leave the Catholic Church—Charred Bodies in the Railroad Disaster Shoveled out Carelessly.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan 10.—The hallways and corridors of the capital were thronged by an immense crowd of people this morning, anxious to witness possible developments in the political struggle now in progress. All interest centered in the house, where the galleries were densely packed, while prominent politicians were present and located in available portions for the purpose of giving advice and assisting any of their friends on the floor

Directly after prayer the doorkeeper stepped to the front of the speaker's chair and announced the presence of the senate the senate consisting of nineteen republican members of that body

Kellison democrat arose and called "Mr Speaker," but was not recognized

Speaker Sayres immediately announced that the business of the convention was to canvass the vote for lieutenant governor Other democratic members also claimed the speaker s attention, but all were refused recognition

The reading of the returns consumed half an hour and at its close, while the clerk was making his computations Jewett democrat addressed the speaker, but was told nothing would be in order until the canvass was complete.

Robertson was declared elected by a majority of 3323 votes He was declared elected and was sworn in by a justice of the superior court, Robertson at once took the gavel and proceeded to read his address The democrats attempted to be heard, and Jewett, democrat exclaimed 'Mr Speaker we do not recognize the legality of this joint convention (pointing to the republican senators) when there is no representation of the senate except the fa gend of that body We protest against this usurpation of power this disorganization and overturning of precedent and law'

At the conclusion of Robertson s address he declared the joint convention adjourned to reassemble in the same hall on Wednesday the 19th, to vote for U S senator

Speaker Sayres then took possession of the gavel and on motion of Gardner the house adjourned

When the house reassembled Jewell a democrat offered resolutions reciting the fact of the election for lieutenant governor canvassing the vote, etc, admitting all points except the one as to whether there was a vacancy in the office of lieutenant-governor and inviting Mr Robertson to seek a solution through the courts Debate on the resolutions occupied a large part of the afternoon, and they were finally rejected the republican speakers maintaining that the general assembly was the only tribunal competent to settle the matter The only additional feature of interest in the afternoon's proceedings was the filing of notices of contest in the case of Englehearte against Mackey Downing against Beasley and Dickerson against Magher These were referred to the committee on elections The first of the contests is that of a democrat against a republican, the others are republicans against democrats There have been but few developments to-night both sides carefully keeping their own counsel. It is difficult to ascertain what is anticipated for to-morrow The senate will assemble at 10 o clock, and it is understood to-night, though it can not be stated as an ascertained fact, that Mr Robertson will be refused admittance to the chamber Another rumor is that no opposition will be offered in case he appears on the floor of the senate, but that any attempt on his part to take his seat as presiding officer of the body will be resisted It is said Mr Robertson does not anticipate resorting to force, but that he considers his legal status as lieutenant governor fully established by to-day's proceedings and will quietly await the solution of the problem.

A LEGAL CONFLICT WITH BELGIUM

WASHINGTON, Jan 10—A decision was rendered to-day in the novel and interesting international case of Belgium by Charles Malta, consul against the keeper of the common jail of Hudson county, N J On the 10th of last October there occurred on board the Belgian steamship Noordland lying at her dock in Jersey City a fight between her sailors, in the course of which one of them, named Wildenhus stabbed and killed another named Frigen, both Belgian subjects The police authorities arrested the murderer and two other sailors who were witnesses to the fight and imprisoned them in the Jersey City jail The Belgian consul acting under instructions from his government demanded the release of all the prisoners on the ground that the crime was committed within the jurisdiction of the kingdom of Belgium and that under the law of nations and the treaty between Belgium and the United States, he, as consul, had sole authority in the premises The demand for the release of the prisoners was refused, whereupon the consul took out a writ of habeas corpus and upon the dismissal of that writ by the United States circuit court he brought the case to this court by appeal. Justice Waite speaking for the court in this case says "The principle which governs the whole matter is this Disorders which disturb only the peace of the ship or of those on board are to be dealt with exclusively by the sovereignty of the home of the ship but those which disturb the repose of people on shore may be supposed and if need be the offenders punished by the proper authorities of local jurisdiction It may not be easy at all times to determine to which of the two jurisdictions the particular act of disorder belongs. Much will undoubtedly depend on the attending circumstances of a particular case but all must concede that a felonious homicide is a subject for local jurisdiction and if the proper authorities are proceeding with the case in the regular manner the consul has no right to interfere to prevent it The decree of the circuit court, dismissing the writ of habeas corpus, is affirmed "

STREET CAR TIE UP IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Jan 10—A general tie up on the consolidated horse railroads occurred this morning pursuant to the action of a meeting of employes which adjourned at 3 30 o'clock this morning The roads comprise the Middlesex and Highland lines connecting Walden Everett Charleston and Somerville with Boston and the Highlands districts. All the employes, including conductors drivers hostlers, horse shoers feeders and tow boys are participating The exact grievances of the men are not known but the trouble is believed to be caused by a failure of President Powers to keep his part of an agreement recently made with the men

A car was started from Charleston Neck this morning Several Shawmut avenue cars have passed over the line since that, manned by non union drivers and conductors who are protected by from four to six policemen on each car There has been no disturbance thus far reported, and it is not expected there will be any

At noon quite a number of cars were running on the Shawmut avenue and Charleston lines These were all policed, and met with no more violent demonstration than hoots and yells.

The employes of the Metropolitan Horse Railway company held a meeting this morning, and voted $3000 to assist the strikers. A meeting of the employes of the South Boston railroad was attended by the same result, and $10 000 is thus subscribed

BOSTON, Jan 10.—No cars were run after dark Everything is quiet along the line The stables of the company are guarded by the police but no disturbance or disorder has occurred The directors of the company as well as the employes, are holding meetings to-night, and it is understood the former have made a proposition to the men but its nature is not yet known.

THE INQUEST ON THE RAILROAD WRECK

CLEVELAND Jan 10—The testimony before Coroner Hepper, in the inquest over the Baltimore & Ohio wreck this afternoon at Tiffin, Ohio was principally aimed at the identification of the persons, who perished By relics picked up at the scene of the disaster the names of T. O Pemberton, of Payne Ohio Frank Bowen of Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania and David Ober of Oberlin, Penn are added to the list of killed already given J E Rankin special detective for the B & O was called as witness but nothing could be gotten out of him Robert Chamberlain of Republic the undertaker who took charge of the bodies of the victims testified that he took eleven bodies from the wreck and is positive more persons perished Alfred Tompkins, of Republic also testified corroborating the evidence of Chamberlain He said workmen in clearing up the wreck paid no attention to the charred remains which were shoveled off the track with the other debris "It seemed" he said, "that they wanted to get rid of the bodies as soon as possible and try to cover up all they could The inquest will be continued to-morrow

McGLYNN TO LEAVE THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

NEW YORK Jan 10—The Times says Rev Dr Edward McGlynn has resolved to practically leave the church of which he is a consecrated priest rather than abjure his opinions on land ownership and other social questions which he learned from Henry George. It was known some time ago that McGlynn had refused to communicate with or recognize in any way the addresses of his immediate superior Archbishop Corrigan but it has only recently been revealed that he had been bold enough to ignore the propaganda which summoned him for trial This to a Catholic is contumacy of the worst type and something even worse than his original offense When the archbishop receives from Rome the requisite instructions he will remove McGlynn from St. Stephen s suspend him forever from his priestly functions and appoint a permanent pastor in his place This will be done certainly before February 1

THE CAPE HENRY WRECK

NORFOLK Jan 10—A wrecking steamer has been engaged in stripping the wrecked German ship Elizabeth to day, and it is taken for granted that the ship is bound to go to pieces Thus far sixteen bodies of the lost crew have come ashore the last one at 5 o clock this evening From a marked resemblance of one of the bodies recovered to that identified as Capt. Halberstadt s it is supposed to be that of a brother or son. The remains of the five life saving men were buried to-day and people came from many miles around to attend the service. On one of the bodies a note was found written at Bremen Nov [illegible] addressed to Frank H. Shaler Two of the bodies had papers identifying them as Gustave Ballcher and C Ammerman and a sailor s bag has been washed ashore with the name of F L Maldenhaw written on it.

OREGON S HANDSOME WOMEN

PHILADELPHIA Jan 10—The Times' Washington special says The families of the senators from Oregon fill a prominent place in the fashionable world of the national capital during the present season The drawing room receptions of their ladies were the events of last week and inaugurated gaieties in honor of their daughters, who are acknowledged belles. It is no disparagement of many Washington belles, who add to the attractions of the social world this year, to say that Miss Mattie Mitchell and Miss Agnes Dolph are most beautiful, accomplished and popular young ladies who are creating such a furore in this gay world. They have just entered their twenties Miss Mitchell being a trifle older It is a singular coincidence that the former Portland law firm of Mitchell & Dolph should represent the senatorial firm of the young distant state of Oregon that Mrs Mitchell and Mrs Dolph should be among the most attractive and popular ladies in the senatorial circle, and that Miss Mattie Mitchell and Miss Agnes Dolph should be among the brightest social jewels of the season

THE HOLLADAY FAMILY

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 10—The Chronicle's New York special says If Ben Holladay can not make arrangements with John Roach for the burial of his son at Ophir farm he will buy a lot in White Plains cemetery and remove from the vault the remains of his daughters, Countess Pourtales and the Barroness Bussiere It is understood that the son of a wealthy New Yorker has sought the hand of Mrs. Benjamin Holladay Jr who secured a divorce from her husband in 1880 But she is a Catholic and the laws of that church forbid marriage after divorce during the lifetime of the husband Holladay s death removes this obstacle to her marriage.

MASONS AND BUILDERS

WASHINGTON Jan 10—The International Union of Masons and Bricklayers met to day with Alexander Danah of St Louis presiding Over 100 delegates from all parts of the country were present representing 25 000 members Commissioner Webb welcomed the delegates to the city in a brief speech After the appointment of several committees and a debate upon the subject of open and secret sessions the convention adjourned until to morrow Among the questions which it is said will come up for consideration are the relations of the union to the Knights of Labor and the hours of daily labor

PRIEST VS ARCHBISHOP

BOSTON Jan 10—The trial of the suit for slander brought by Rev Maurice S Fitzgerald against Catholic Archbishop John J Williams of Boston was resumed to-day Mr Fitzgerald testified that he visited the archbishop to ascertain the reasons for his (the witness') removal from his parish, but the archbishop treated him so that he called him an ecclesiastical brute and the personification of tyranny The archbishop said he would prevent witness appeal to Rome from being considered as he was going there and would get there before the appeal The archbishop refused the witness a trial or a hearing

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE

TRENTON, N J Jan 10—The state legislature will meet to morrow, and the hotels are filled with politicians to-night Among the leaders the only topic receiving attention is the U S senatorship for which Gov Abbott and Wm J Sewell are contestants The legislature stands republicans 38 democrats 39, labor 2 and contest seats 2 total 81 The contested seats are held by democrats but the republicans claim they are entitled to them and unless this concession is made the latter threaten to defer organization

A DEFAULTING COUNTY TREASURER.

GALVESTON Jan 10—Expert accountants who have been engaged for a month past in examining the books of the absconding county treasurer W J Burke rendered a report to the county court to day showing Burke to be a defaulter to the extent of $13 500 cash and $16 000 worth of county bonds belonging to the school fund He was last seen in San Francisco His bondsmen are making no effort to apprehend him

THE FUNERAL

NEW YORK Jan 10—The funeral of the late John Roach will take place on Thursday at 11 A M from St Paul Methodist Episcopal church Twenty fourth street and Madison avenue, where deceased attended Rev Dr McChesney pastor will officiate assisted by Bishop Horace The services will be as plain as possible The interment will be at Greenwood Pall bearers have not been selected yet.

MRS WITTROCK S MORTGAGE.

KANSAS CITY Jan 10—The $1800 mortgage upon Mrs Wittrock s house in Leavenworth was paid through a loan agency of this city to day, the money having been sent here as is alleged from the Adams Express company. Fred Wittrock s plea was that he robbed the express money to discharge this debt and it was said he stipulated with the detectives that it should be paid

SHIPPING NOTES

The Bessfield is at Flanders s wharf discharging general Liverpool cargo

The Arica came up last night docking at Greenwich alongside the Spirit of the Morning

Br bark Ladstock hence September 5 with wheat flour and 20,294 cases salmon by Sibson Quackenbush & Co arrived at Liverpool 3d inst., in a passage of 120 days

Br bark Suliteima arrived December 19 from Shanghai via Royal Roads had a prior charter for grain loading While at Shanghai she was in dock for slight repairs and Lloyd s agent, seeing her copper in ragged condition demanded further repair This the captain refused and sailed for Oregon Upon arrival here the surveyor for the charterers passed upon her so far as is usual and Lloyd s agent, who had been informed and instructed, refused to pass upon her condition so that the vessel is now virtually without a class in Lloyd s To receive a class now she would have to be opened, examined and recoppered which would necessitate no little expense Surveyors say she could have had repairs made at Shanghai for less than $1000 The Suliteima was built at North Glasgow N S in 1880 of spruce She was metaled early the next year and opened in 1885 In September, 1885 she carried a wheat cargo hence
